Recall consequence

The subject vehicles are equipped with a Toyota Safety Sense (TSS) 3.0 system or Lexus Safety System Plus (LSS+) 3.0, containing a forward recognition camera to detect objects for certain driver assistance features, including the Pre-Collision System (PCS). Due to the programming of the front view camera software, the memory inside the front view camera fails during processing when the ignition is turned off. If this occurs, The pre-collision system will not be activated on the next ignition start, causing warning lights to illuminate, audible chimes to sound, and messages to display on the instrument panel.

Recall Action

To reprogram the Forward Recognition Camera
